

DELHAIZE GROUP RECOGNIZED AS A SUSTAINABILITY LEADER BY THE DOW JONES SUSTAINABILITY INDEX (DJSI)

Inclusion in the DJSI confirms Delhaize Group's leadership in the Food and Staples Retailing Sector.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, September 10, 2015 – Delhaize Group is proud to announce its inclusion in the 2015 Dow Jones Sustainability Index (DJSI), a leading benchmark for investors who integrate sustainability considerations into their portfolios.

The Belgian international supermarket operator is one of only four retailers in the world and one of only three retailers in Europe to be included in the DJSI for the Food and Staples Retailing sector. The Group received a total score of 73, well above the industry median score of 43. Performance of Delhaize Group was well-balanced between the three dimensions: economic, environmental and social.

"This is an outstanding achievement that reflects our ongoing commitment to be a sustainability leader in all of our markets," said Frans Muller, Delhaize Group President and CEO. "We are particularly proud that we achieved strong results in all categories, especially related to our strategic focus areas of sustainable private brand sourcing and zero waste. Our score reflects the significant efforts and investments made by the Group and our 150 000 associates worldwide."

Frans Muller noted that the Group's 2020 "Supergood" Ambition is a key lever of the Strategic Framework, the overarching guiding principles that the company introduced last year.

"Our progress over the last year has clearly been recognized by the DJSI assessment. We moved closer to our 2020 goals, and further embedded sustainable business practices by establishing more specific and more measurable targets that help us improve and build on our sustainability performance," he said. "We thank all of our associates and business partners for their dedication and support."
